Located in the Port of Cardiff in South Wales, Seaport Environmental Ltd operates a licensed Hazardous Waste Treatment facility, specialising in the treatment and disposal of liquids, sludges, and solids contaminated with hydrocarbons and organic substances. The site is permitted to operate by the Environment Agency under IPPC. All waste streams accepted for processing at Seaport are subject to stringent monitoring and reporting in accordance with appropriate regulations.

Management of the installation is committed to reducing all potential environmental impacts from all processes and activities generated at the site. The site, and all pollution prevention infrastructures are purpose built.

We acknowledge our environmental responsibilities, and have integrated our environmental accountability into the Installation's operations. All personnel involved with the management and operation of the Installation is committed to continual environmental improvement and endeavours to reduce impact on the local and global environment.

Our aim is to reflect the overall environmental aims of the Organisation. We will conduct all associated operations in an environmentally compliant manner. In order to do this, we will:

- Meet and exceed relevant environmental legislation;
- Prevent pollution to all mediums of the environment;
- Provide appropriate training for all key personnel to raise awareness of associated environmental aspects, and to provide specific instructions regarding individual requirements of the permit;
- Integrate an environmental management system (EMS) into the installation operations;
- Ensure all waste is handled, transported and disposed of responsibly, and in accordance with Duty of Care requirements;
- Ensure all activities continually remain within the limits prescribed within the authorisation;
- Regularly review all environmental objectives and targets set by the Installation, to assess environmental progress;
- Make this policy widely available to all staff members and interested parties;
- Maintain the regular review of this policy.

Consistent with the overall environmental commitment of the company, we will adopt good environmental management to achieve outstanding environmental performance. We will ensure that our permitting requirements are always met and that effective communication with all external parties is implemented.

We will achieve our environmental aims by establishing objectives and targets reflective of our improvement strategy. These targets are created by all relevant personnel, and will be reviewed for achievement through designated review mechanisms.
